FROM FATHER'S DESK

Father Nathaniel Meyers

If I was writing this bulletin column in 1984 and decided to focus on Divine Mercy Sunday, pretty much every single parishioner would be asking. "What's Divine Mercy Sunday?" Forty years later, however, I imagine very few practicing Catholics are unaware of this celebration that has spread throughout the Church thanks to Pope St. John Paul II's advocacy in making us aware of St. Maria Faustina Kowalska, whose mystical writings on the infinite mercy of Christ have helped renew countless people's trust in the goodness of God. As our parish observes Divine Mercy Sunday with time for Adoration and Confession, we are taking part in a movement that has spread with incredible speed throughout the Church.

Naturally, when a phenomenon like Divine Mercy Sunday occurs, one must wonder why this is the case. After all, many other noble and worthy practices already exist in the Church and there's plenty of other wonderful spiritual devotions that have emerged in the past decades, yet none of these have expanded quite like Divine Mercy Sunday and the chaplet associated with it. I suspect on some instinctive level, the explosion of Divine Mercy devotions in the Church is a reflection of the fact that our world is in desperate need of merciful interactions. In a world where people emphasize insulting one another and our colloquialisms focus on people "owning" or "destroying" one another with "sick burns," a little bit of mercy can go a long way.

As Catholics, each of us can be an image of Divine Mercy. When someone offends or bothers us, we can forego the usual response of responding with anger or returning the offense. By showing mercy to one another, especially towards our enemy, we give a window into a better and more humane civilization that is built upon God's love. Now that we are fully into the Easter Season and our focus is on the Resurrection, let us each deliberately pursue the path of mercy in order to witness to the world a better path of life.

In Christ,
Fr. Meyers

FAITH FORMATION & YOUTH NEWS

PICK-A-PLEDGE FUNDRAISER — BOARD LOCATED IN THE CHURCH GATHERING AREA

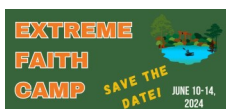

The Pick-A-Pledge fundraiser helps support our parish youth to attend camps, trips and programming. Every year over 100 youth participate in various summer camps and trips. These events range from Pro-Life, mission work, faith-building, evangelizing and other various events. Each activity educates, strengthens and inspires our youth to go out into the world to live their faith and share it with others! Unfortunately, a number teens are unable to afford the cost of some of these events. In addition, our chaperones must use their own vacation time from work AND pay their own way to attend these events. This places a burden on many families.

Stop at board, grab an envelope, fill it with the amount (cash or check made out to St. Francis Xavier) on the front of the envelope and drop it off at the parish office or drop it in the collection basket.

CATHOLIC Q & A: ANNULMENT

Question: After a civil divorce, should a Catholic pursue an annulment?

Answer: Many Catholics are not exactly sure what an annulment does. An annulment does not deny that a marriage took place, nor does it deny that there once was love. It does not mean that people say anything untrue, such as they never loved each other or that everything in their marriage was wrong. An annulment does not negate children, nor make them illegitimate. An annulment addresses the spiritual aspect of marriage. In effect, an annulment says that at the time of the wedding, there was either something present or something absent that prevented the sacrament from taking place. It is a spiritual determination that, if granted in the affirmative, allows a person to marry in the Church.

Annulments have no legal standing and are unable to be used in a civil court. Therefore, a Catholic has no moral obligation to pursue an annulment. However, when the tragedy of divorce occurs, and there is no hope for reconciliation, annulments may help bring some spiritual closure to a person's life. Some people have found the process to be healing and others have found it to be difficult. Speak to your priest or a member of the Diocesan Tribunal staff to decide what is best for you.
